

The diary of Samuel Medley, butler to the Earl of Kinnoull, British ambassador to Constantinople, covering the dates 16 October, 1733 to 9 November, 1736 PART 3: 1735

Advice on reading and searching the diary

This document consists of a series of pages each displaying 4 pages of the actual diary. When reading the diary, the researcher is advised to enlarge the page to, say, 150%, and use the scroll bars at the bottom and side of the screen to allow convenient reading. At the top of each page of this document is typed the date range of the page so that the computer's 'Find' facility may be used to reach any month and year required: just request the computer to Find, say, 'October 1734' (thus, without the quotes and with no comma after the month) and you will be taken immediately to the first of the pages covering that month.

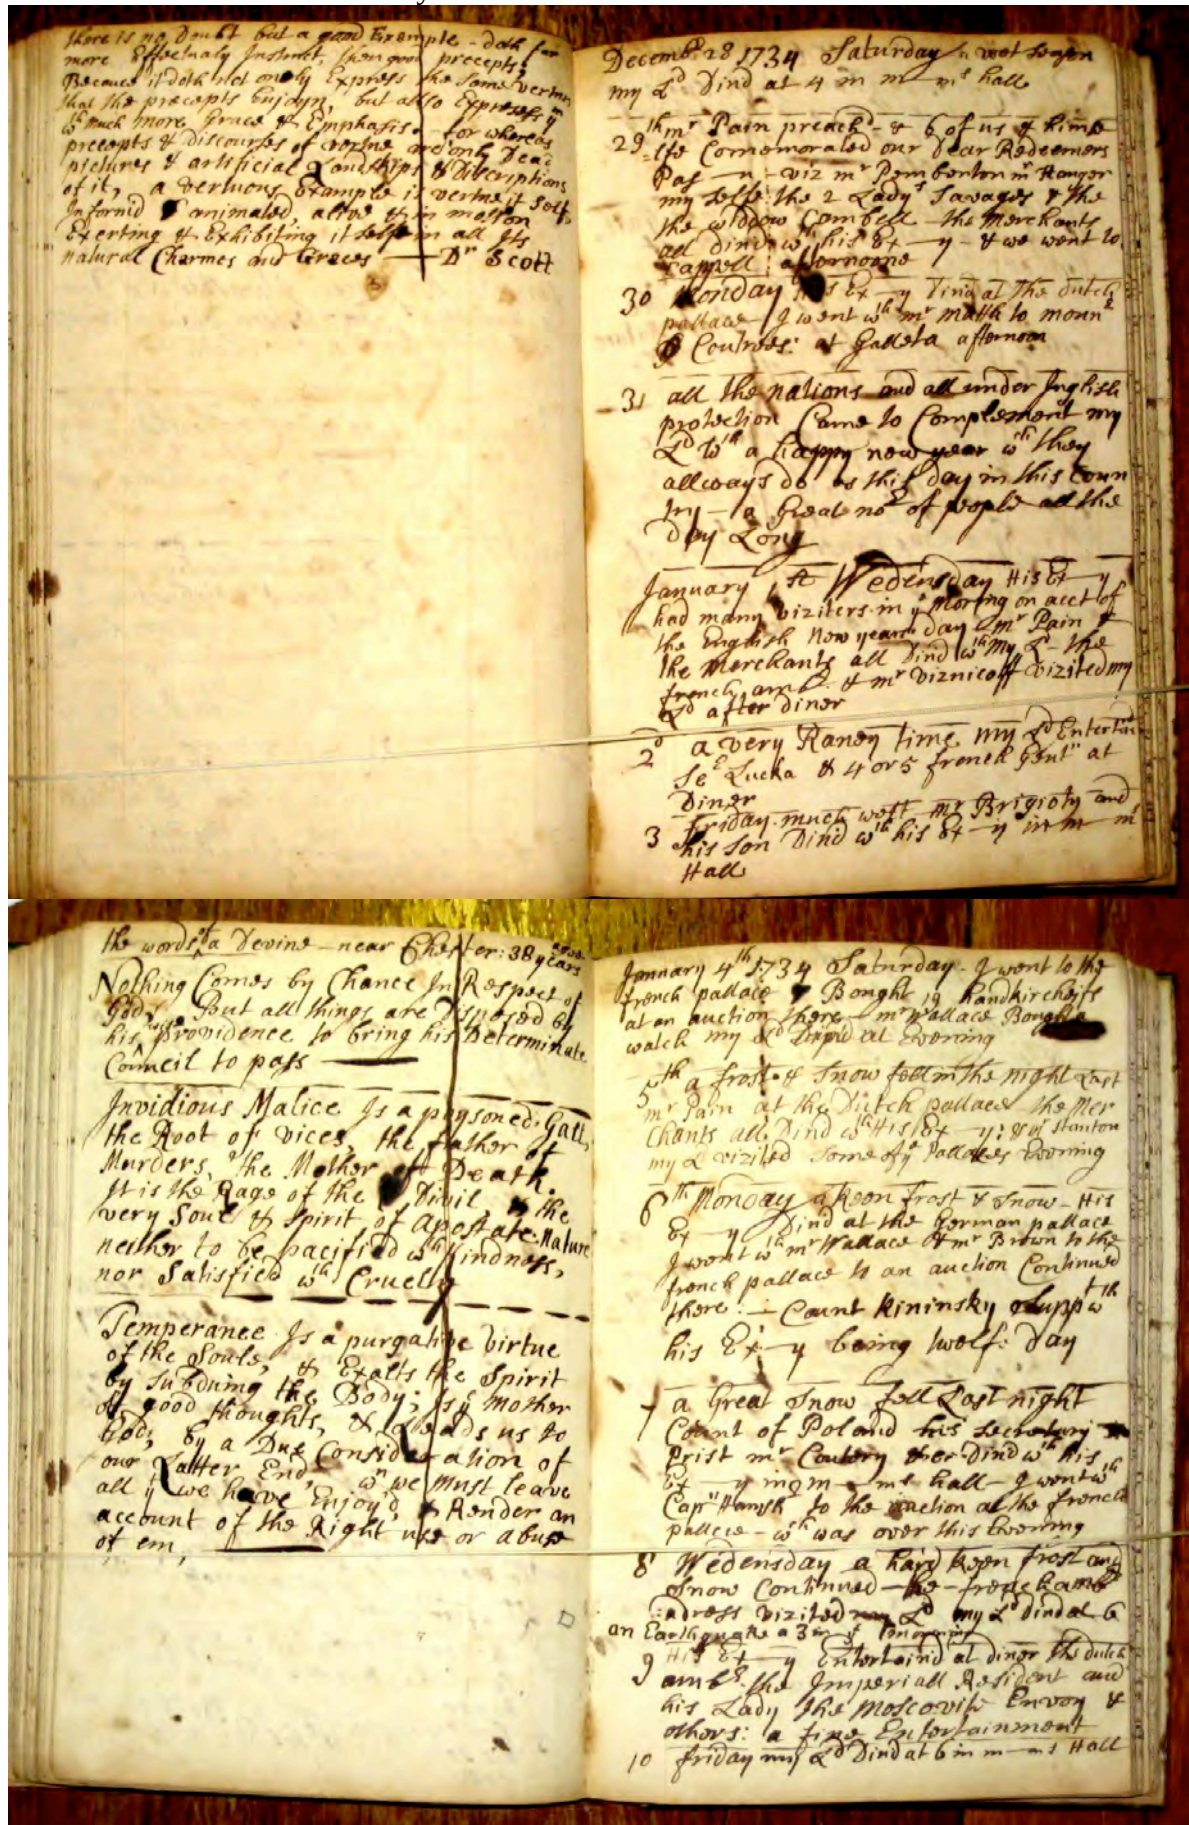

Under the Julian calendar, which Samuel Medley was using, the year ran from 25 March to the following 24 March; under the Gregorian, which we use today, from 1 January to 31 December. For convenience, when Medley writes '1735' for dates in what we regard as the new year between, 1 January and 24 March, we give it as 1736 in the page headings.

You cannot search this document for individual words: to do this you need to search the transcription of the diary, also to be found on www.leginipress.co.uk.

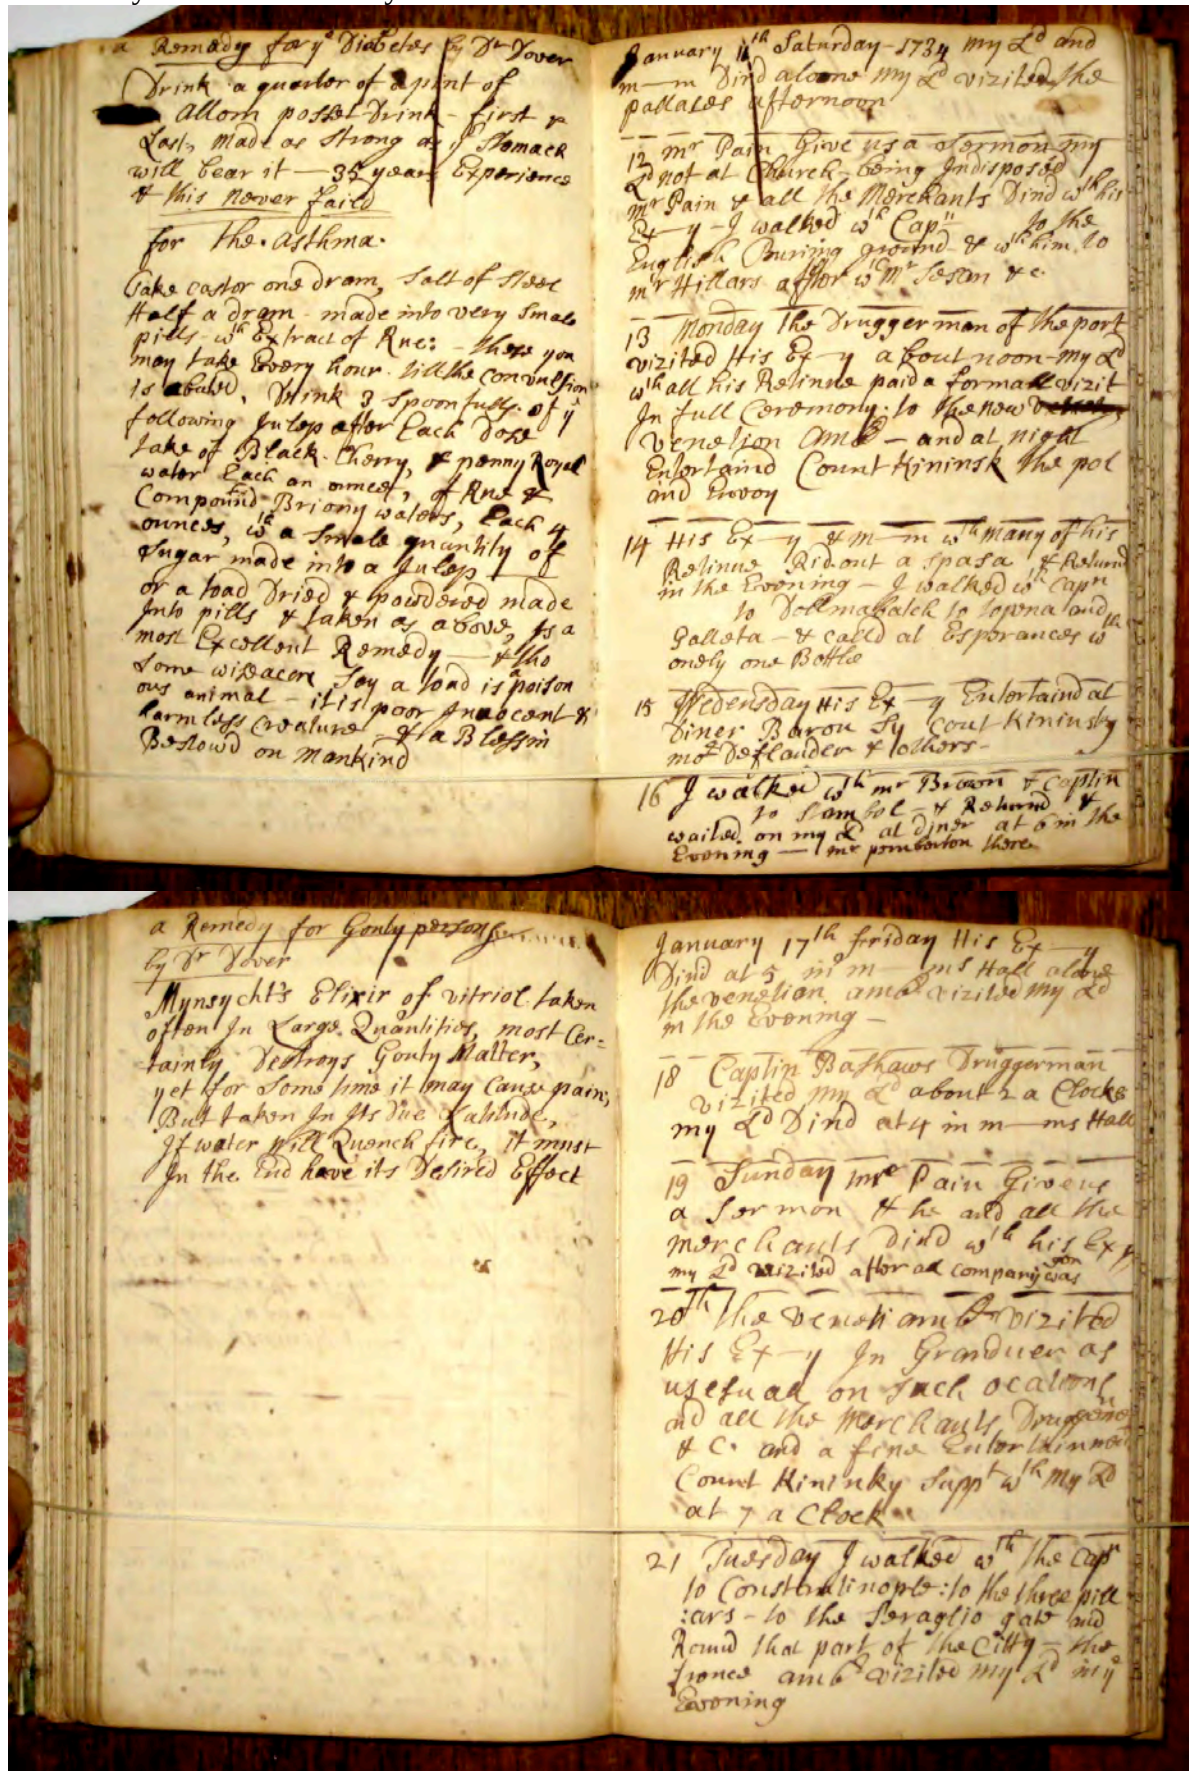

Transcription errors

If you are using the transcription of the diary in conjunction with this document, you may find transcription errors: it would be most helpful to the owners of the diary (and authors of The Earl and his butler in Constantinople and the text of this website) if you would report these errors to us using the e-mail address butler@leginipress.co.uk

Feb 2 I heard strange news

5 February 1735 to 21 February 1735

If being moped, Depressed, or insensible; if whining, fasting, or long prayers, or rigid observance of holy times; if consuming our lives in a barefooted pilgrimage, or wearing a hair shirt, or whipping our backs - or spending our Estates on Masses & indulgences if being made free of a holy fast, or abstinence or visiting altars & shrines, or never stirring prayer like faggots by a tally of beads; if these or any of these will secure us of heaven - I from going to bed we shall think them a thousand times more tolerable & easy - than to submit our wills to god In all the instances of true piety & virtue — Dyr Sect nothing is more certain in Reason and Experience than if Every Inordinate appetit & affection is a punishment to its self, & is perpetually crossing its own pleasure, & defeating its own satisfaction by overshooting the mark it aims at.

For instance, Intemperance in eating & drinking, the head of Voluptuous and satisfying nature. Both but Load and Clog it. Instead of quenching a natural thirst, it is Exceedingly pleasant to do, Creates an unnatural one, which troubles on the Marriage Day Triumphant Beauty never looks so gay, as on the morning of a Nuptial Day.

Love in within a larger circle moves new Graces add to her Charm Improves while Hymen does his sacred rights prepare the Busy nymphs attend & trembling fair whose veins are swelled to an unbridled heat the eager pulses wth strange motions beat Alternate Passions various thoughts impart th painful joys Distend her throbbing heart Her fears are great th her desires are strong the Minutes fly too fast - yet stay too long now she is ready - in next moment not all things are done - yet something is forgot She fears - yet wither if strong work was done Delays - yet is impatient to be gone Disorders thus from every thought arise what Love persuades, I know not to Denies what's all this noisy jargon of the School But O! the nonsense of a laboratory fool who foster Reason wth perplexing Rules to m^r Aquinas Bulky works are found Does not enlighten Reason but confound who travels Scotus swelling ones that find a cloud of darkness Rising on the mind In controverted points Can reason sway in Passion or conceit still carries away thus his new notions Sherlock is built th clear y^{et} Greatest Mystery cut with But by unluckily wit perplexed y^{et} more made y^{et} darker than they were before South soon opposed him out of Christian Zeal Shewing how well he could dispute & Rail How shall we e'er Discover wth is right is both so eagerly maintain the fight Each does y^{et} short argument decide Each has y^{et} Church & Scripture on his side the sharp & ill-natured combat but a jest Both may be wrong; one perhaps errs y^{et} least How shall we know wth articles are true the old ones of y^{et} Church or Burnets new in Paths uncertain & amidst the heads who blindly follows others fertile heads is sure, wth certain mark have we to know the Right or wrong twix Burgess, Wake & Howe
